reasons why this is a BIG deal for farm profitability and sustainability.

Comprehensive

Multiple data sources are now integrated, delivering a comprehensive view of your operation—in real time—so decisions are more timely, informed and sustainable.

“We believe farmers belong in a position of power. This platform does exactly that.”

Pat Christie
Founder, Conservis

Lender relevant

Advance lender relationships with reporting that unites the financial picture with the farm management picture. Comprehensive and easy, get lender-ready reports that make it easier to work with any lender.

“Lenders are always saying, ‘We need better information.’ This platform gives you all that information and it makes the flow of information very simple and easy for clients, while keeping them in total control on how they share their data.”

Robert Lubben
Head of Digital
Rabo AgriFinance

Confidential, controlled data

You share only what you want to share with lenders and business partners. Period. End of story.

“We have control over our own data. The data is held in our Conservis database and only accessible by Rabo AgriFinance at our permission.”

Dave Horras
D&D Horras Farms

Leader developed

This co-developed technology combines the best farm management software with unmatched ag finance expertise. What’s more, this platform will constantly improve and adapt—because that’s what leaders do.

“To have two companies already working with farmers pair up like this, so I can break down the wall between the mountains of farm data and my financials, is something great. No other farm management platforms have cracked that nut.”

Aaron Lee
Cornerstone Family
Farms

Automated

Data is compiled and converted into information that’s easy to share—for your whole team—because this platform is designed to work in real farm situations, making it less error-prone and more productive.

“We are committed to connecting our clients to tools that might help them not only manage risk and finances but also know their true cost of production. We see Conservis farm management software, and the company’s hands-on approach, help producers manage their businesses, costs and data.”

Curt Hudnutt
Head of Rural Business
Rabo AgriFinance

Conservis has partnered with Rabo AgriFinance to connect field data to financial results in real time – improving efficiency with actionable information.
